

Chapter Meeting – Monday, October 14 at 7 p.m. Milwaukie Center, 5440 SE Kellogg Creek Dr., Milwaukie
Perennials from Seed – Amy Campion

Who doesn't like free plants? Learn to grow perennials and other ornamentals for free or very cheaply by starting them from seed. In this class, you'll learn how to germinate seeds (including those that need special treatment) and how to grow seedlings to become strong, sturdy plants for the garden. **MG Education Credit*

October Seed Swap Before the Meeting

Please note that due to suggested restrictions on plant swaps where there is movement of soil from one site to another, we will no longer be hosting our plant swap in the spring and fall. Seed-Swap Information Page

6:15 p.m. Seeds arrive.

6:30 p.m. Swap begins for helpers and for those who brought seeds.

6:45 p.m. Everyone is welcome to "shop" for seeds.

8- ish (during break): last chance for browsing the seeds.

Questions: Please contact Roxane Russell to get on the volunteer list, or if you have any questions about the swap.

The Green Glove for October goes to Nancy Hopkins, class of 2003. Nancy coordinates the New Plant Introductions for the Spring Garden Fair, and acts as the Food liaison. She also serves as the Chair for the Gray Thompson Community Grants Project. Many thanks to you, Nancy, for the work you do for our chapter.

Coming next month: November 11, 2019

Growing Dryland Vegetables – Amy Garrett, OSU Extension Small Farms Program <http://smallfarms.oregonstate.edu>

Learn about strategies for growing select summer vegetable crops without supplemental irrigation in our maritime climate. Hear about results from Oregon State University Dry Farming Project field trials, and how you can get involved with the Dry Farming Collaborative.

As an Assistant Professor, Amy researches and teaches ways to improve the economic and environmental sustainability of our food production systems. Amy has over 20 years of experience in the horticulture industry ranging from landscape design, installation and maintenance to organic farming. The Dry Farming Project she is leading will be expanding to include several Dry Farming Demonstration sites in Oregon, a series of workshops called Growing Resilience: Water Management, and participatory dry farming research with the Dry Farming Collaborative. **MG Education Credit*
